ACHES! PAINS!
"I ache all over!" What a common expression, and how much it means in many a poor sufferer! These aches have a cause, and more frequently than is generally suspected, the cause is the Liver or Kidneys. The disease is more painful or serious than some, and we assert in all positive and emphatic manner that is certainly the best remedy ever discovered that is an infallible cure for all DISEASES OF THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS, MALARIAL DYSPEPSIA, etc., and yet it is simple and harmless. Science and medical skill have combined with wonderful success these Herbs which nature has provided for the cure of disease. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system.
MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

Dana, Sun & Co., bankers, New York, failed yesterday, with preference amounting to $1,000,000.

Ole Olsen, Thorvaldsen, one of the proprietors of the Boston Theater and one of the prominent men of Boston, is dead.

"Democracy" is a newly-invented word among the Populists, used to designate the opposite subsequent upon a division.

Judge Taft, of the Circuit Court of Cuyahoga County, who resigned some time ago, recently resumed the bench yesterday.

This issue of The Tribune contains the Chronicle, a 16-page Anniversary Edition, edited yesterday [illegible] Thanksgiving Dinner, [illegible]

Thos., killing three bank-robbers outright, fatally injuring three others, and causing a general break.

The imports at New York last week were $7,371,000, of which $1,000,000 was general merchandise and $1,000,000 dry goods.

Tariff antagonists last week talked from again—this time at Grand Rapids, Lyons, and at the Department of the Northwest.

Canada's vote is still to win. Complete by this fact, France is hurrying forward reinforcements to Admiral Duperré and Gen. de Pibrac.

Gen. and Mrs. Scott A. Lovell were pleasantly surprised by their Washington friends last night on their residence in that city.

Wages will be reduced 5 per cent Dec. 10 at the Pullman Palace Car Company's factory, Chicago, Ill. The company employs nearly 1,000 hands.

Tucson is a perceptible better feeling among Pittsburg iron men, caused by the receipt of several large orders and the promise of more to follow shortly.

Gen. Granger Hunt of New Jersey, a veteran of the Mexican War and a soldier in the War of the Rebellion, died very suddenly yesterday in New York.

Sugar-refining speculators are preparing to make thoughtful bids in opposition to the Spanish bonds, which, they maintain, are below very little indemnity.

Three retributive bars have been voted in the twenty-two States and Logan Station in Illinois and they will meet at Springfield Wednesday next to cast their ballots for President and Vice-President and forward the result to Washington.

A DEFALCATION has been discovered in the office of the Virginia Auditor of Public Accounts which may reach $50,000 or $60,000. The Auditor's books, it seems, fail to show proper credits for taxes on the permanent part in by the clerks of the various county seats.

Charles Reynolds, the handsome and alleged flattest who eloped with Miss Wilson, daughter of C. J. Wilson, of Detroit, and who has recently been on trial at Toledo for bigamy, was found guilty yesterday and in habit, leaving the consideration of a possible new trial, to spend some seven years or so of his time in the penitentiary.

Just what is supposed to be embraced in the subscription of respectable citizens, according which Gladstone and Lord Salisbury are said to have come to an agreement, will be made known at Gregorovi's session of Parliament. It is stated that the continuation of the Indian on both sides will be able to pass this or any other bill on the subject against all possible emotions.

The old Board of Commissioners of Cook County held its last meeting yesterday. The Finance Committee, in its report on the investigation of the Auditor's office, declared that the alleged records had been taken out in the [illegible] investigation would show who did the stealing and who were the records from obtained.

Judge Tuley yesterday appointed Steven A. Gordon, a retired druggist of this city, receiver for the Times newspaper out of the suit brought by real estate. The receiver is not to interfere, however, with the present management of the paper or with the property in the hands of Justin L. Peterson, administrator to estate, pending the appeal from the last-named appointment. Mr. Gordon's selection, it is understood, is satisfactory to the bulls up and to the widow of Wilbur F. Storey.

The Pope will shortly announce the names of two additional Cardinals Cyrillonis. The appointments are generally understood in the Vatican Council, and though they are kept secret outside of diverse circles information from a high source is to the effect that the recipients of the new honors will be Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore and Archbishop Feehan of Chicago. Members of the second are already increasing the appointment of the former's residence. Among the names mentioned in the latter connection is that of Bishop Spalding of Peoria.

Wyatt & Hill, liquidators in the Lone Trust & Savings Bank of Delaware, demanded the money the receiver, a register of Sussex County, informed him that under the conditions of the appeal he could not have it till Jan. 1. The depositor promptly entered the matter with the receiver and avoided the transfer of the funds. The receiver, reaching into a drawer as if to take out the money, calmly pulled a revolver, coolly cocked, on the depositor, who stood and withdrew, but was subsequently arrested.

The official vote of all the States but Colorado, Florida, Louisiana, and Texas gives the following tallies:

The Butler votes of Iowa and Michigan are counted from the Cleveland votes in the above tallies and placed with other Democratic votes.

The New Orleans papers give Cleveland 15,000 majority in Louisiana. Counting 1,500 in Cleveland in Florida, 4,000 in Texas in Colorado, and 100,000 in Cleveland to Yulee, States over that would have 35,000 popular majority.

Even since the discovery of opulence beside in the Second Precinct of the Eighteenth Ward the man in charge of the County Clerk's office have been singularly cautious to impress upon the public that the stolen funds are here been recovered since the last was in their possession. And yet the evidence is increasing every day to show that the spurious tickets which were found in the box were engraved and printed at late as Friday, Nov. 23. If this fact be fully established, which now seems to be almost certain, it will follow that the stuffing took place after the box had been "guarded" by the force in the County Clerk's office. In that event the County Clerk's gang, which has been promoting the work, will find itself, as well as the spurious ballots, "in a box."

The recommendation made by Attorney-General Boreford in his annual report relative to the jurors in the District of Columbia is still worthy the attention of Congress. After dwelling upon the diverse practice of "fixing juries" in the Washington courts and the inconsiderate objection to the way of securing jurors there, he advises that the Jurisdiction of the United States Circuit and District Courts for Maryland be extended so as to cover the District of Columbia, in order that prisons against the United States may be tried in the District of Columbia may be tried in the United States Court of Maryland and jurors may be drawn from the entire State of Maryland. Mr. Bogster evidently has the electoral vote in his mind. By the amendment, and the Administration of which he is a member have been built on question for the Solicitor to control the electoral votes, while, as a matter of fact, such correction was out of the question under the prevailing jury system in the District of Columbia. Congress should make this matter into consideration, but it should also define the question whether the jurisdiction of the United States Courts of Maryland ought to be extended to the District, or whether it would be better to permit the District courts to draw jurors from both Maryland and Virginia, the adjoining States. The latter plan would be more comprehensive and would probably supply a more efficient remedy against present abuses.

Assurances on the supplement for a writ of mandamus to compel the Illinois State Board of Canvassers to declare Rudolph Board elected Senator from the Sixth Senatorial District will be heard at Springfield Dec. 4, Ex-Gov. Hamilton had previously announced his intention to decide whether also to appear in the parliament, it is now generally thought that these assistance proceedings a week later one or will have any appreciable effect on the result.

Mr. Bryan himself has suggested the amount at Springfield to dismiss the mandamus proceedings and let the Governor proceed according to law. In no instance yesterday he explained the opinion that the Governor would give the certificate to Lorimer, adding that he would contest the seat if returned he was elected, but that he did not want any money and have the office if it should appear that it was procured, for him by fraud.

The official returns of Michigan shows the following result: Union Electors, 195,000; Populist electors, 28,000; Prohibition Electors, 15,000; straight Silver Electors, 700. Bryan's plurality, 4,000. It will be remembered that the Democrats and Silverites united on a Union electoral ticket. As the number of electors was thirteen there could not be an even division between the two contending parties; therefore it was agreed that fourteen electors should be voted for, the fourteenth being a Democrat or a straight Unionist, at the preference of the voter should indicate, and to save the Union ticket prevailed the electoral vote should be cast in the ratings for Cleveland and Stuart in proportion as the vote should be indicated by the fourteenth name. The result of this arrangement was to give a very accurate register of the strength of the two parties in the Union. The vote stood as follows: Democrat, 146,000; Greenback, 41,000. The two together aggregated some 5,000 above the highest vote cast for any Union elector, showing that both parties got both their straight efforts to make the best showing possible on the odd combination. The party lines the vote of Michigan, therefore, stands recorded as follows:

Four years ago the vote of Michigan was:

Four years ago the vote of Michigan was:

Gov. Stanford's duty is plain. If he is satisfied that Brown did not receive a majority of votes in the Sixth Senatorial District he cannot unconditionally issue a certificate of election. If he is satisfied that Lorimer did receive a majority it is equally his duty to countenance to give him the certificate of election. There is no doubt about the conclusion which the Governor will reach from the evidence before him. He has personally interested the illegal frauds. He has before him the affidavits of 110 citizens to the Second Precinct, while Lorimer is credited with only 107 votes. The evidence given before the United States grand jury is open to him, which shows that a personal inspection of the ballots by a large number of citizens has proved that they were not the same ballots those citizens voted. He has the testimony of a majority of the Cook County Canvassing Board—Judges Scully and Barnes—showing the ordinance of tampering which were brought to their attention. He has the clear and decisive testimony of the United States experts that they inspected and counted the ballots for Senator and found that Lorimer had received 426 and Stuart only 174 votes in the precincts. He has the testimony of the United States Marshal to the same fact, and also one of the challengers.

It is known that the legacy is admitted on all sides, and that the Democrats who insist upon the recognition have their claim upon the intimidation of the law, which alone restrained the County and State Canvassing Boards from correcting the returns. To reject under the circumstances, even if it were forbidden to, that Lorimer was elected.

The Governor is accordingly sure to be over-overcome and in the result. If he is convinced that Lorimer was elected, it is not enough that he withhold the certificate from Stuart; he should not hesitate to issue it to Lorimer. It is entirely within his discretion, and his course will be recommended for the facts, by the Legislature, and by public sentiment overwhelmingly. It is the only way by which the defendants who have perpetrated the outrage can be completely circumvented. They should not be permitted to enjoy any part of the fruits of their fraud. The returns from the Second Precinct are on record at all, show they are forged. The Governor has no right to issue a certificate on the basis of a forgery. Lorimer is entitled to the certificate, and Gov. Stanford should give him his.

The Democratic leaders in this city and this State, who are fully informed of the outrage, are still looking to us to commend action by an passive indorsement. Mr. Springfield Board, the Democratic candidate for State Senator in the district where the forgery was committed, has the reputation of being an honorable man and good citizen. He knows that his apparent majority was procured by stuffing the ballot-box with fraudulent votes, and that the majority of the votes which have been proved spurious by the testimony of the very men who are credited with having voted them, including relatives and intimate friends of the candidate who was defrauded. In the face of this fact, he is represented by counsel in Springfield, who is attempting to secure for Board a certificate of election. Who is the accused? Ex-Gov. Fetzer, who would be a conspicuous candidate for the United States Senate to vote the longest should hold good. Congressmen Springer, who would also be a candidate for the United States Senate in the race, passed through Chicago a couple of days ago and stopped long enough to denounce—not the fraud—but the machinery by which the fraud had been wrought. Roger Sherman, a strict and perhaps the most favorable candidate for the United States Senate if the Democrats can secure the Legislature through this fraud, makes ghastly jokes about it. The Lincoln Club, representing the 6th electoral district of Chicago (Democratic), has not turned its hand to check the effort to steal a United States Senator, and not a single member of that organization, so far as we know, has condemned the outrage. Even this inside the Democratic ranks public is "silence."

If the facts in the case ring still in disguise the earnest Democrats who endorse to contain the fraud might pretty their course on party grounds. But the fraud has been proved. The supreme who counterfeited the seal of the ballot and the others who set up the spurious ballots have been found. The ballots have been taken from the box, examined by the men who are represented as having voted them, and pronounced to be spurious. Every Democratic paper in Chicago, except one, admits the fraud and publishes the proof thereof. And still the effort to make the casualty available is approved, condoned, and gloated by the most staunch pro and influential members of the Democratic party. Is not this state of things [illegible]?

ENGLISH FEDERALISTS.

The congress of the advocates of British imperial federation, now in session in London, seems to be nothing more healthy in expressing opinions in their columns and in proposing a basis upon which all the colonies can come into the union. So far as the Pacific colonies are concerned, there is a slight difficulty in the way, as New South Wales declines to join in the proposed federation, whether from jealousy or from some other reason does not appear. Should the Home Government, however, favor the scheme the other Pacific colonies will acquire hearty and some way of overcoming the opposition of the refractory New South Wales.

As at present appears the federation seems to be principally of a military character, and one of the chief objections offered was met by the proposition of the colonial representatives to pay all the expenses of garrisons for their defense in times. It is contemplated that the colonies will raise a sufficient force of soldiers and maintain a fair reserve or organization with which they could protect themselves against their neighbors. In case of an attack upon the mother country they would then be prepared to lend their aid, while in case of any attack upon them by a hostile power they would have the aid of the whole Empire in their defense. Should their defensive work be great enough to require assistance from the regular army of the United Kingdom, the colonial contingent would be in a fine position. Already the colonies have taken from the line, many of the men who are represented as having voted them, and pronounced to be spurious. Every Democratic paper in Chicago, except one, admits the fraud and publishes the proof thereof. And still the effort to make the casualty available is approved, condoned, and gloated by the most staunch pro and influential members of the Democratic party. The Independent Pan Chicago Clearing-House Association, as reported in this notice, shows a decline of 17 per cent from the total of the corresponding period of last year. This is by no means to find an indebtedness to be due, but rather, the process are very much below their usual rate of profit and appreciation to another. It is now generally admitted that the present high rates of money cannot be maintained much longer. Many enterprises which are still not profitable would be forced to suspend. The result would be a general shrinkage in the value of property, and a consequent loss to the holders. This would be followed by a decline in the rate of interest, which would be a benefit to the community at large. The shipments of currency to the interior reported for the week ending this day, indicate a further decline. The demand for money was active, and the rates were as heretofore, 1@2 per cent for the ordinary run of transactions. There was a large supply of foreign bills, but prices were unchanged, as follows:

$1,000,000.00 WORTH OF DRY GOODS!

This is the time of the year when every good merchant wants to replen... Prices is not an item of an object as to get rid of Goods bought for this winter's business. Now is the time the Worth Winter Goods must be sold, not a time, but, when everybody must have them, and everybody can get them almost at their own price. As the winter has been an open one and goods have accumulated on account of overproduction and slow sales,

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE PEOPLE OF CHICAG

To lay in a supply of Warm Wearing Apparel for immediate or future use. I am not trying to close out any old goods which are out of season, out of style, Soiled, or shopworn; but my goods are all fresh, new, and fashionable, old fashioned or time old remnants at half price to entice the careless to their stores, and when once in they make additional out of them. But the remnant sales have had their days in Chicago. The good people have been humbugged enough, and since times out of ten have paid more for remnants than they would have bought the entire goods from the original piece. I never advertise remnants, as everybody knows there are plenty of them on hand, and I shall not.

FOR LESS THAN HALF THE ORIGINAL COST!

"IT IS NO USE TO LOOK AROUND; HAVE BEEN ALL OVER; CAN'T GET SUITED SOMEWHERE ELSE AS WELL AS HERE," is the utterance of thousands of good ladies who are visiting my elegant warerooms daily. My goods are all right, my prices are all right, my salesmen are all right. I want the right sort of customers, and I guarantee that I will make everything all right. No trouble to show goods, no trouble to sell goods. I don't trouble anybody, and I don't want anybody to be troubled, to come here on the strength of this advertisement and be disappointed. I have everything I advertise, and give everything as I advertise it.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The report of the Japanese losses between Gladstone and Mukden is the first intimation of an offensive movement on the part of the Japanese. The official statement is that the two armies have practically come to an armistice. The great battle which the correspondents predicted has not been fought. The Conservative leaders seem disposed to accept. The Unionists were generally of the opinion that the Government would not call a general election. The Liberals are confident that the Government will be defeated at the polls. The meeting of Parliament will be held. The meeting of Parliament will be held. The meeting of Parliament will be held

Developments in the National Bank Collapse at Middletown, New York.

Erasmus Dewhurst, Chicago, Declares in Suit and Cost, Unequal to the Visit.

Heavy Failures in New York City—A Receiver Asked for the Harrison Iron Works.

AMONG THE BANKS.

THE MIDDLETOWN NATIONAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sun. 20.—[Special.]—The discouraged efforts of the United National Bank to wait tranquilly for such assets as may be found in its vaults and for such dividends as may be declared from time to time from the funds which have already been collected from the banks which have gone into liquidation, have been rudely disturbed by the appearance of Erasmus Dewhurst, of Chicago, in the case. In the interest of the parties to whom the suit was put when suit was commenced, and to relieve them from further annoyance, and to relieve the bank from the necessity of defending a suit which, in its last analysis, must be settled by the parties themselves, the agent of the bank has this day filed with the Comptroller of the Currency a statement of the facts in the case, and will ask him to appoint some one to actually prosecute the suit instead of the bank, which has already been put to considerable expense in the matter.

There is no doubt about Dewhurst's financial condition. He is credited on his own books with the sum of $75,000 which he owes the bank, and which he is unable to pay. He is also indebted to the bank in the sum of $75,000 on his own account, and the immediate assignee of the bank is of the opinion that the suit was brought by Dewhurst for the purpose of compromising the matter on the part of the bank. The agent of the bank does not take this view of the case, and will not consent to any such settlement. He is willing to allow Dewhurst to withdraw the suit, but will not consent to any other action.

A CHARGE OF FORGERY.

A true bill was found by the Grand Jury of Kankakee, Ill., yesterday, against Thomas Hall and Wilson Hall, charging them with having forged the name of Thomas Hall to a note for $10,000 in favor of the Kankakee County Bank, which had been obtained from the banks which subsequently failed. The charge was to the effect that the defendants had forged the name of Thomas Hall to a note which they had obtained from the Kankakee County Bank, and had used the money which they received on the note in speculating in grain. The Halls are said to be prominent citizens of Kankakee County, and the charge against them is considered a very serious one.

A CASHIER'S ARREST NOT SATISFACTORY.

MARSHALL, Mich., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—The arrest of Cashier Hall, of the defunct Calhoun County Bank, on a charge of forgery, has created a great sensation in Marshall. The complaint was made by Mr. Hall's brother, who is a large property owner in Marshall, and who has been a director of the bank. The affidavit charges that Cashier Hall forged the name of Thomas Hall to a note for $10,000, and that he had used the money which he received on the note in speculating in grain. The arrest has not been satisfactory to the depositors of the bank, who are anxious to have the matter investigated.

THE FIRST NATIONAL OF ATTICA.

ATTICA, Ind., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—The First National Bank of this city has been closed by the Directors, and will probably remain closed for some time. The bank was organized with a capital of $100,000, and has been doing a good business. The cause of the suspension is said to be the withdrawal of deposits by the heavy depositors, who have become alarmed at the condition of affairs in Indiana. The bank has a large amount of money out on call, which it is unable to collect at present. It is thought that the bank will resume business in a few days.

A BANKER'S ASSIGNMENT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—[Special.]—The assignment of Mr. Thomas Hoyne, as trustee for Mr. Hoyne's wife, was filed in the Circuit Court this morning. The deed of assignment conveys all the property of Mrs. Hoyne, which consists of a large number of lots in Chicago, to Mr. Hoyne, in trust for the benefit of his wife and children. The deed of assignment was executed on the 15th inst., and was witnessed by Mr. Hoyne's brother, Mr. Edward Hoyne, and Mr. Hoyne's partner, Mr. Lambert Tree. The deed of assignment was acknowledged before Mr. Tree, a Notary Public, on the 15th inst. The assignment was filed this morning by Mr. Hoyne's attorney, Mr. Lambert Tree, who is also a member of the banking firm of Hoyne, Tree & Co. The deed of assignment was executed by Mr. Hoyne in consequence of the embarrassed condition of the banking firm of which he is a member. The deed of assignment was executed on the 15th inst., and was filed this morning by Mr. Hoyne's attorney, Mr. Lambert Tree, who is also a member of the banking firm of Hoyne, Tree & Co. Call for a Convention of Silver-Producing States.

Gen. H. Dr. Young Recovering—The Hamilton Eagle Gone.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—The silver question has been brought to the front-producers of the United States for a convention to meet in this city Dec. 15, 1864, "to take such action by the Congress of the United States of England and the Continent, and to confer with them and endeavor to secure the passage of such laws as may be necessary to secure the use of silver as a money metal, and to maintain the relative value of gold and silver as coin at the present ratio of sixteen to one, or such other ratio as may be agreed upon by the said Congress." The call is signed by Governor Booth, Senators Stanford and Hearst, Ex-Governor Irwin, Congressmen Piper and Barry, Mayor Bryant, and many other prominent citizens. The convention will be composed of delegates from the Pacific States and Territories, Nevada, Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oregon, Washington Territory, and Alaska.

GEN. YOUNG RECOVERING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—[Special.]—Gen. H. Dr. Young, who was shot by Dr. Kalloch, is rapidly recovering from his wounds. He is able to sit up and converse with his friends, and is now considered out of danger. The physicians say that the bullet which struck him in the left breast passed entirely through the body, and that the wound in the back is not dangerous. Gen. Young's son, who was also shot by Kalloch, is also recovering from his wounds.

THE HAMILTON EAGLE GONE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—[Special.]—The Hamilton Eagle, which has been published in the interest of Kalloch, and which recently changed its name to the Hamilton Republican, has suspended publication. The office has been closed by the sheriff, who has levied upon the property to satisfy a judgment of $1,000 in favor of Gen. Young. The paper was started by Kalloch's friends during the campaign, and was run for the purpose of supporting Kalloch for Governor.

OTHER TRADE TROUBLES.

WILKES-BARRE.

A suit was instituted yesterday morning, which involves the question of the validity of the Assignment of Mining Rights Act of 1864. The plaintiffs in the case are Messrs. Hollenback, Conyngham & Co., who are the owners of the Hollenback Estate, which is situated in Luzerne Borough, and which is leased to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company. The defendants are Messrs. Lewis & Reynolds, who are the owners of the Reynolds Estate, which is also situated in Luzerne Borough, and which is leased to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company. The plaintiffs claim that the lessees of the Reynolds Estate have failed to pay their royalties for the coal mined from the Reynolds Estate, and that they have, therefore, forfeited their rights under the lease. The defendants claim that they have not failed to pay their royalties, and that they have not forfeited their rights under the lease. The case will be argued before the Supreme Court at Harrisburg on the 1st of December.

A MINER'S ASSIGNMENT.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—Charles A. Baker, a prominent coal operator of this city, has made an assignment to Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions Thomas Lynch. The assignment is for the benefit of his creditors, and the amount of his liabilities is not known. The assignment was made at the request of Mr. Baker's friends, who have been urging him to do so for some time. The assignment is said to be a preferential one, and will be contested by some of the creditors. The assets consist of a number of coal properties, and the value of the assets is said to be considerably in excess of the liabilities. Mr. Baker has been engaged in the coal business for many years, and has been considered a very successful operator. He is a member of the Board of Trade, and is well known in business circles.

CONFESSION OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—A prisoner in the Eighth District Station-house this morning confessed to having embezzled $10,000 from the firm of Wm. Wilson & Co., dry-goods commission merchants, of this city. The prisoner's name is Charles Wilson, and he is a son of the senior member of the firm. He was employed as a salesman, and had been in the employ of the firm for a number of years. He has been missing since Thursday last, and was arrested in Camden, N. J., yesterday. He has made a full confession of his guilt, and says that he has lost the money in speculation.

THE FOUR BRIDGES.

Business of the Duke Creek Bridges.

DUKE, Ill., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—Some time has elapsed in this city of the burning of the wagon bridge over Duke Creek, on the west side of the Union Pacific Railway, between Chesterton and Lyndale. The crossing was originally a toll structure of wood, but all except the piers of the bridge was burned, and the bridge was rebuilt by the Union Pacific Railway Company, but not as a toll bridge. The bridge was opened to the public on the 1st of November, and has been crowded with teams and pedestrians ever since. The bridge is 1,200 feet long, and is built of iron, with stone piers. The bridge cost $50,000, and was built by the Union Pacific Railway Company. The bridge is 1,200 feet long, and is built of iron, with stone piers. CABINET GOSSIP.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sun. 20.—[Special.]—The talked that Senator Bayard will be tendered the portfolio of the State Department, and that he will accept it, was generally given credence to-day by the officers of the Government. Senator Bayard would have, before, had to be consulted. He says Cleveland's appointments are all right, and he thinks Cleveland will be a good President. A Bill Embodying the Recommendations of the Secretary of the Navy, which, as the Department is now organized, is a proposition for the creation of a new bureau, to be called the Bureau of Navigation, and embracing the Hydrographic Office, the Naval Observatory, and the Nautical Almanac Office, is now under consideration by the Secretary of the Navy, and will be submitted to Congress at the coming session. The Bill will provide for the appointment of a Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, who shall be a naval officer of the rank of Commodore, and who shall receive the pay of a Rear-Admiral. The Bill will also provide for the appointment of a Chief Engineer of the Navy, who shall be a naval officer of the rank of Commodore, and who shall receive the pay of a Rear-Admiral. PRINTING THEIR CLAIMS.

Numerous rumors in such shape, and emanating from such sources as to command attention, have been afloat during the week in relation to the frauds of the Board of Assessors.

Circumstances have come to light which seem to confirm that the Logan Republican orators during the latter part of their campaign of that city have been fighting on the wrong side of the Second Precinct of the Eighteenth Ward were present, as it will not be denied by Mr. William H. Wright, the junior partner of the printing firm of D. L. Shoemaker & Co., which did the printing of nearly all the Democratic tickets. The circumstance would seem to indicate that this may be the case as he (and that Mr. Samuel Fox, a former convict of the firm, and Mr. Wright) swung up something Friday night, the nature of which he declined to state, that the afternoon of that day, Mr. Wright, in whose name connected with the Bill, entered Judge Farnum, Little & Co., a few of the Democratic type used in printing the names of the candidates on the Republican tickets, which, along with the stock of type of that kind already in the office, would have made enough to set up the ticket complete in full, and that Mr. Wright, when questioned on the subject both by reporters, refused decisive, and his partner, confined to answer yes or no to the inquiry whether or not he had an Democratic Republican ticket.

ANOTHER PLACE.

The latest rumor was put on the Wright partnership of a Democratic reporter as to whether he had done this thing, and the only answer was: "That is a leading question." The reporter of the person from merely answering. It is stated by those who have the best to know that he is an intimate friend of Mr. Wright, and during the last week refused to answer a question, either in the affirmative. The natural course of the individual, however, in finding that such circumstances might arise as ours in implicate him in a transaction which had at its back, should be to deny and falsify and let the facts, supposing them to be true, take care of themselves. It is understood that the matter will be brought before the grand jury Monday, and will be fully investigated. It is also understood that Mr. Wright does not deny the charge that the engraver of the counterfeit bills is a Republican.

It is known that witnesses have been issued for the afternoon before the grand jury of their personal attendance, and of others, and it is also known that the witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury. The following is a list of those who have been subpœnaed:

Mr. Fox's statement.

Mr. Samuel S. Fox, the superintendent of the D. L. Shoemaker Printing Co., and who had charge of the composition of the type for the counterfeit tickets, was seen by a reporter of THE TRIBUNE, and in response to questions, Mr. Fox said that he had never been in the employ of the Democratic party, and had never printed a Democratic ticket in his life. He had printed tickets for the Republicans, but not for the Democrats. He had never been in the employ of the Democratic party, and had never printed a Democratic ticket in his life. He had printed tickets for the Republicans, but not for the Democrats.

In response to the question whether the Logan tickets were made by the given number which the Republicans had printed, Mr. Fox said that he had never been in the employ of the Democratic party, and had never printed a Democratic ticket in his life. He had printed tickets for the Republicans, but not for the Democrats.

Mr. Shoemaker's account.

"I have charge of the composing room of the establishment, Shoemaker," said Mr. D. L. Shoemaker, "and I remember Logan tickets and requisitions on a few odd occasions to do the printing of those tickets. I do not remember the number of tickets, if any were ordered, but I have been unable to find out anything in the engraving of the tickets. I do not know whether the tickets were printed or not.

[New York Sun: Elevated Gossip' Effing' Effing!

"Jim, here out to the left, and get some fried oysters on the shell, and then get me on to a spree. She's over-seven."

I was lying on my side on the floor of an ambulance, looking up my right sleeve, with my head close to the driver's seat. Doctor and assistant sat on a cushioned bench, screwed solidly to the rear end of the ambulance, and were lying with in dark Chinese outlines, against the square of the open door.

I had been suffering with acrimony for months, at times so intensely that nearly any doctor told me that the hospital was the proper place for me, that there I should be better cared for than I could possibly be at home, and that, in all probability, my period of suffering would be materially curtailed by the treatment. I would confess to the hospital for consideration. The proposal was not pleasant. I was accustomed neither to being an inmate of such an institution, or any establishment called the hotel business was from cradle to the poor-house. My confidence in my doctor, however, overpowered all unpleasant objections, and he prepared to send me northward for the next morning. He said I would suffer less pain in an ambulance than in the easiest-running Coupling carriage.

I shall never forget the feeling I experienced when they started me—oh, how carefully!—down the steps of the house, across the sidewalk, and left me, as gently as a loud mother would her baby, on the floor of the ambulance. It was October evening—fact, I. The driver was scowled. The police had been to their patrol across the sidewalk from the human story of the story to the ambulance. I felt the solemn depth of the scroll as I passed through it, and I saw the steps of under to secure a glimpse of the face. I heard a few whispered inquiries—

"Is he dead?"

"Where does he live?"

"Delirium" and "Delirium tremens." The whole scene reached further on to give the element of my business to the last Pleasure-Division car, in which French soldiers get frightened seeing down the street of a church a congregation with its bishop, the Crescents, officers and men, coming to surrender. Once after I was in the ambulance the surgeon or their aide, who had been with Dr. Hammond, the physician of the case, with whom I would have to remain—

"Here, take the next parcel. Jim, and get into the next avenue. She's over-seven."

"All right, sir."

I felt somebody, a cab, evidently against a down-stairs wall. A few more moments another engineer left. "All, that's better. Now get me on the track, Jim."

"All right, sir."

Effing' Effing' Effing! A screwdriver fell. The driver was thrown. I passed over the driver's seat. The door opened a gentleman within. There are classes of conveyances to this city in which a corset, be he drunk, intoxicated, or both, yields the right of way to Browning. I don't dispute, and my statement, in almost all cases, would be true that the way I got of the ambulance was the best I ever made in the whole course of my life. Indeed, I have since had many reasons to be thankful that I was in the ambulance at the time. I have seen gentlemen on the streets of the East Shore, who had come out of the front of the hall to intimate the surroundings of Dundee Heights, a few minutes after I was seated on a chair on the elevator and the hotel on the third floor. I was there, certainly, but I was not in my room. The impression was a vivid one that I was in the ambulance, and that I was being carried to the hospital. I was not in the ambulance, but I was in the hotel

DETROIT.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 29.—[Special.]—Gossip here now touches a number of matters for the administration offices within the gift of Gov. Alger. Your correspondent was unable to-day to learn that the Governor had nearly completed his list of appointments. Inference is being brought to bear on him to consolidate some departments, but thus far the opposition of many has been thinking. It is doubtful if he will be influenced. C. V. D. Pond of Quincy will be the Commissioner of Insurance; Geo. of Jackson, Warden of the State Prison; S. C. Stevens of Scottville, Warden of the Soldiers' Home at Grand Rapids, whose re-election is now assured, and Capt. Hopkins of Detroit, Commissioner of Railroads. There cannot have been prompted the gubernatorial suggestion. C. D. Gibbs, who has declared for Fisher for Congress, wants to be Chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, and has a good claim. In the case of Commissioner of Immigration, Frederick Stevens of Detroit was believed to have the call on it, but it seems otherwise. Stevens's name is also mentioned in connection with the Railroad Bureau, and for other posting a letter-man would not be found. He might not accept appointment under them. Some one he would not. For Pension Agent Charles Draper has announced his intention. Secretary of Statehood Jerome Croswell and Labor of the Upper Peninsula, who is to make their personal interests the plea of their friends, but a. W. Smith, Secretary of the State Central Committee, is considered for the place, not as capability of any question, but he is to be given it in preference to Calvin, who has the practical knowledge of all the committee, while Smith is a good secretary. If you wanted such a man from Detroit, Smith, who, next to Alger, is the best to all your dealings. If this is so he will be given the Commissioner of Immigration, Geo. Hopkins of Detroit, Commissioner of Railroads

A Gossipy Letter from New York Concerning Modes of the Coming Winter.

The Inexpedient to Maintain Its Position as the Favorite Way for All Classes.

Jokes With Its Points and Innuendoes—The Dressy Dames Are Rolling Down.

[Special Correspondence of The Tribune.]

New York, Nov. 29.—[Special Correspondence.]—"Well, Miss—From Little Thistle correspondent," said the Editor, would you have me for one of the fashion" who are evidently now spending in the east of the fashion, such is the inevitable tendency of styles. In fact, so much is added and taken away from the original that it is difficult to discover the styles which prevail.

Those who prefer the long wraps find the fashionables of last year still in favor here. They are made of heavy cloth and trimmed with velvet, passementerie, or plush, and are very handsome. They are most popular in the brown and green shades, and the latest novelty in their trimming is the black Persian lamb, which has the same general appearance given to the seal skin by the same process. Very handsome long wraps are made of heavy cloth and trimmed with bands of the fur, and are in the shape of the Talma, with a deep cape and long sleeves. If there be any difference in the fashion of fur, these are so long as to almost sweep the skirts, are tight-fitting at the back, but have straight front seams, sometimes with three darts from the neck to form, and are fastened with a wide side clasping of black velvet, below from the throat down. Some of these wraps, of black chevoit cloth, is trimmed with a facing of black plush down the front and around the bottom. A few fashionable ladies have adopted the Russian sable for the trimming of the long cloaks this season. A handsome, long garment showing these furs has the close front in of black chevoit cloth, which runs down the front, around the bottom, and up the back opening to the throat, and is trimmed with the Russian sable. The shoulder capes are edged with very deeply fringe, and, instead of being sewed to the shoulder seam, the top of the cape is drawn in at the throat to a point which is covered by the collar of the garment. The high shoulder effect is obtained not by shoulder seams, being still worn underneath the sleeves, being still worn in front, but the high sleeve fullness. There are also many handsome long cloaks for carriage wear, of heavy silk plush or velvet, with deep capes and long sleeves, and trimmed with fringe, passementerie, or gimp, and lined throughout with satin. Many of these are made with the fronts cut in the shape of the Princess style.

Short wraps and coat cardigans are very popular for the season.

[Illegible] cardigans.

Jackets are short and jaunty, without back pieces, and have special claim to favor. Those are made with basque trimmings of gold passementerie, and with loving cuffs and collars, and black and gold are the favorite colors.

Many of the short cassocks or visites for street wear are made of velvet, or have velvet for the fronts, collars, and cuffs, and the sleeves are lined to the elbow, while the remainder is lined to the wrist. These jackets are also made of the same material as the cassock and are extremely pretty. Two of these are made from black velvet, and have the fronts and collar of black astrakhan, and the sleeves are lined with the same fur to the elbow. Another is made of black and gold velvet, and has the fronts and collar of black astrakhan, and the sleeves are lined with the same fur to the elbow. Another is made of black and gold velvet, and has the fronts and collar of black astrakhan, and the sleeves are lined with the same fur to the elbow. Various Features of the Real-Estate Market—Office Rents Most Important—Many Flats Becoming Stores.

"I have been in the real-estate business in Chicago a good many years," remarked the Washington-street friend of the Tribune one sunday afternoon, "and I have observed the different phases of the market under the varied circumstances that have surrounded it during those years, but I never realized that I have ever seen such a brisk market as there is at present. It has been generally admitted that the late panicky movement and the continued worse weather have contributed to discourage business efforts, and that real estate has come in for its share of the unfortunate. And, however, both the theories and the unfavorable weather being such, it is not easy to account for a continuance of the circumstances that have darkened the last few months. A glance at other departments in this morning will assist one why I didn't get into a conference for a piece of property with me on the South Side. I will bet I had half several offers for the lot in question, but as some had come since noon to me for the privilege of looking at it, I would not name any price until after dinner. I don't think there was a day last week that I was not asked to sell some piece of property, and I am sure that I have had more than a dozen applications for loans. Why, I don't believe there is a man in the city who has a piece of property to sell or a loan to make who has not been approached by me or some one else in my office. Why, I have had

THE DRAMA.

Lawrence Barrett.

The production of "Yorrick's Love" at Haverly's last week was creditable to Mr. Barrett, who is unquestionably the most progressive of American actors. Newly built for out of date paper hangings, the play is by no means a strong one, but it is redeemed by high endeavor in the art, and only occasionally from the embarrassment to give an Shakespearian characters to their accustomed form. As for Jean Hotchkiss, which the stage has unfortunately lost, he never to his best powers did more than enjoy the lovely young Swedish actress to Toronto. Mr. Barrett, however, has sought to present public taste and to do justice to Lawrence appropriate by bringing out works of native talent and to adding considerable of detail to the performances.

It may be further said of him that his earnest has given dignity as well as talent to his profession. More important than any other art to an educating and to a progressive people is that of the player, and to its advancement to its proper system of respect in the world of art has contributed no little assistance from the Barretts. But to attain so much as to break off acting belongs the credit of having lifted the profession from the low plane of Shakespeare to that which it now occupies in the estimation of writers. For Mr. Barrett has done one of the unpleasant duties of the stage which others have not only done unpleasantly but have compounded the offense of ungracious by their manner. In truth, not the least service of Mr. Barrett to the stage is the spirit of his profession, which makes itself felt in the most casual affairs and attends a engagement as the work to all persons of the theatre, only through the exercise of a power but of authority
